

IACP Blog: Improving Information Sharing by Chief John Batiste

Posted by ISE Bloggers on Wednesday, November 9, 2011

Check out this blog post about information sharing on the International Association of Chiefs of Police Blog ^[1] by Chief John Batiste, Washington State Patrol, General Chair of the Division of State and Provincial Police:

The Division of State and Provincial Police recently formed the Information and Intelligence Sharing Subcommittee to help advance the IACP's information sharing agenda. The subcommittee provides a forum for our members to bring issues to the forefront that affect the ability of law enforcement to keep our hometowns safe from crime and terrorism.

The first meeting of the group, which is chaired by Colonel Steve McCraw, Texas Department of Public Safety, was held in Chicago. Below are three of the group's recommendations:

- Information and Intelligence Sharing Hubs
- Recognizing, Processing, and Analyzing Suspicious Behavior
- Bringing Smaller Agencies into the National Information Sharing Architecture
